STYLE MOMENT GREG'S A STUD

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

Trust Scanlan Theodore to fashion a range of optical eyewear that is artistic, almost architectural and, well, just very cool. The 19-piece collection is pure allure but we're especially fond of (clockwise, from left) the cat-eye feel of the St Harmonie glasses in Buttercup, St Estelle in Honey and St Harmonie in Royal Blue, $495 each (with transparent sample lens only).

EGYPTIAN TREASURES

Real Majik, YSG's rug collaboration with Tappeti, draws on Yasmine Ghoniem's half-Egyptian heritage to create 12 luxury rugs. "Egypt is one of those potent planetary energy centres that knows way more than we humans do," says Yasmine. The hand-tufted rugs below are named after Egyptian deities (from top) – Osiris is inspired by the Seba star constellation, Seth by the Red Sea and Hathor by rhythmical notes.

IN THE MIX

Colour can pop up just about anywhere in the kitchen, even in those smaller appliances. KitchenAid has put their twist on Pantone's colour of the year, Viva Magenta, with their Hibiscus version of kitchen hard-grafters such as the K400 variable speed blender, $449, and KSM195 4.8L Artisan stand mixer, $999.

WELCOME HOME

Blue and green aren't the easiest colours to successfully match, unless you're Marimekko. Their latest releases include (from left) the smart Pieni Tiiliskivi and Tiiliskivi cushion covers, $59 each. If it's just blue for you, try the Siirtolapuutarha mugs, $62 for two. All tough to say, but all easy on the eye.
