

interiors NEWS

Henne, Sydney.

Shop: Henne

Henne has opened its second store, in Sydney's Paddington, which continues its relationship with inimitable interior designer Brahma Perera. Perera's talent for marrying unexpected textures and colours is on full display in the new boutique, with a dynamic material palette of lime acrylic shelving and blue quartzite joinery paired with parquet flooring and aluminium accents.

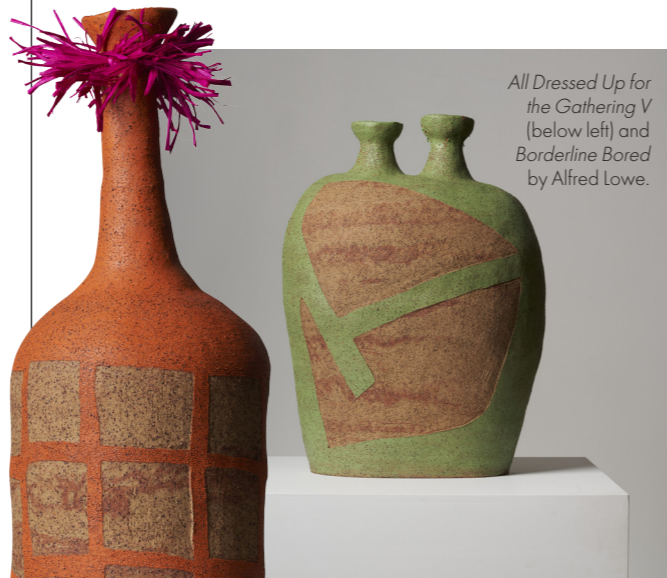

Dinosaur Designs Branch bowl and Rock Tower table.

Objects: Dinosaur Designs

Two new earthy hues, Olive and Moss, colour Dinosaur Designs' new homewares and jewellery collection. Soft, sinuous and finished in the brand's signature resin, each handmade piece evokes natural forms.

Collab: Mud x Alfred Lowe

Earlier this year, Arrernte artist Alfred Lowe was announced as the recipient of Mud Australia's 2024 Shelley Simpson Ceramics Prize. Lowe creates clay vessels that explore belonging and connection to Country. His work will be displayed in Mud's stores around the world.

All Dressed Up for the Gathering V (below left) and Borderline Bored by Alfred Lowe.

Talent: BMDO

Fletcher Barns and James L Marshall are the creatives behind BMDO, a design practice subverting traditional furniture and art. They work between Melbourne and LA, and their pieces are often upholstered in unexpected archival fabrics, like this silk taffeta-covered chair.

The Bauer chair, created in collaboration with Amanda Nichols of Replica Project. Right: Fletcher Barns (left) and James L Marshall.

PHILIP HUYNH; LILLIE THOMPSON; MARK POKORNY; SAM ROBERTS PHOTOGRAPHY; ANNIKA KAFKALOUDIS; COURTESY OF THE ARTIST/SULLIVAN + STRUMPF SYDNEY, PHOTOGRAPHED BY MARK POKORNY. WORDS BY MATILDA RINGROSE

Sydney's Superfreak cafe, designed by YSG.

Eat: Superfreak

Superfreak cafe is now open in the old Serendipity ice-cream factory on Enmore Road in Marrickville, Sydney. Acclaimed interior design studio YSG has fitted out the interiors with a soulful '70s vibe, complete with cork flooring, plush banquette seating and buttery honey hues punctuated with avocado greens and some seriously sexy art and lighting selections.

Inspiration: Japandi decor

A natural collaboration between two brands that celebrate minimalist design, this cute Rice Paper Table Lamp (far left) from Assembly Label and McMullin & Co. is inspired by Japandi style.

'Japandi' is a calming fusion of Japanese and Scandinavian aesthetics.

From left: Figure with Flat Mask II, and Bi Self Portrait (2024).

Art: Ramesh

Sri Lankan-Australian artist Ramesh Mario Nithiyendran's exhibition The Self Portrait and the Masks opens on September 12 at Sullivan + Strumpf Sydney. Nithiyendran's vibrant ceramic sculptures interrogate the politics of religion, mythology, sexuality, gender and race. Until October 12.